 PLAZZ

EVERYTHING FROM ONE HAND

Your virtual production via plazz AG

In addition to a digital event platform, plazz AG offers the possibility to professionally produce livestreams. Through the in-house remote studio, the entire media technology and television-ready production is prepared. Thus, no investment in expensive and complex technology is necessary.

Since the production is completely virtual, speakers and organizers can be connected worldwide. Intertitles, belly bands, sponsor banners as well as intermission images are additionally integrated into the stream for the complete directing package.

Digital events are predestined to be made available as on-demand videos afterwards. The Remote Managed Studio of plazz AG is able to record live streams so that you can make them available to your participants afterwards.
